Rockton, ON, Canada

McArthur Medical Sales Inc., a Canadian leader in medical devices for neonatal, anesthesia, and respiratory care has received both ISO 13485 medical manufacturing certification and Medical Device Single Audit Program certification (MDSAP).

McArthur Medical Sales Inc. (MMSI) celebrates its MDSAP certification for their unique respiratory products, ODAPT™, EXHALO™, and the international award winning Flusso adapters, Flusso By Pass™ and Flusso TFI™. The MDSAP certification means that products meet the requirements of current regulatory standards required for medical devices by Health Canada. Kyle McArthur, General Manager, said, “McArthur Medical is excited to achieve this milestone, enabling us to provide Canadian manufactured innovations to clinicians, which greatly enhances therapy for the patients they serve. In addition, it provides the framework to continue to grow the MMSI-brand portfolio.”

The management team at McArthur Medical made a decision to move ahead to implement a quality management system as the first step to preparing for ISO certification. “Certification to the standard requires an organization’s quality management system to pass a third-party Medical Device Single Audit Program, and we knew that becoming certified would be an important step to ensuring continued success in of our company,” said McArthur.
